UNHAPPY YOUNG WOMAN AGAIN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Inmate of Alleged Disreputable House, in Intoxicated Condition, Tried to Drown Herself—Rescued by Officers.

Tired of the world and despondent because of her life of shame and the news that her mother was coming for her from a distant home in Florida, Alma Morris, a young woman residing in the neighborhood of Fourth and Castle streets, was saved a second time from committing suicide by drowning herself at foot of Castle street Saturday night about 11 o'clock.

Policemen D. W. Willis and D. A. Rowan were the officers who frustrated the unfortunate woman's second plan toward self destruction and she was locked up at the police station for safe keeping. One night last week she had made a first attempt to drown herself, as told in these columns at the time, and Saturday night, when the officers saw her going to the river, their suspicions were naturally aroused and they followed, reaching her in time to save her from jumping. She was indignant at the arrest and appeared to be under the influence of intoxicants. Since her first attempt at drowning she had been under careful surveillance of those in the house with her and when she made her escape Saturday night, the police station was immediately notified but Officers Willis and Rowan made the arrest before the news had been communicated to them. The woman was kept at the police station until Sunday night when she was given over into the keeping of her friends, who gave assurance that they would see that no ill befel her.

A Pullman car brought over the road from Atlanta in the morning pulled down a number of the span wires and it was impossible to get them up again in time for the operation scheduled.

NEWBERN, N. C., June 30.—Wilmington lost to-day to Newbern in the first game of the second series by a score of 7 to 0. Heavy hitting by the home team was responsible for the victory.

Wilmington played good ball and will be heard from. Symons was on his mettle to-day and never gave the visitors a chance to win. Krause pitched good ball at times. McGinnis' centre field playing was sensational and he received hearty applause.

Fisher did faithful work behind the plate, but Mathison had an off day at third. The Gulls made two hits in the ninth, but that was all.

President Busbee appoints C. C. Jordan of Newbern as official umpire, and he did well to-day.

The Heavy Hitting Truckers Too Much For Sea Gulls.

— A shut-out is a bad beginning.

— When will Wilmington get that new pitcher?

— Sweeney will doubtless pitch for Wilmington to-day.

— Wilmington seems to be still playing in the first series.

— It was not until the seventh and eighth innings came that our defeat was so onerous.

— The horse editor is afraid to risk more than ten cents on the Giants (limited) to-day.

— Krause gave but one base on balls, but the Clams squeezed sixteen hits out of his delivery.

— And Charlotte didn't do much better than Wilmington. What's the matter with the Hornets?

— Every man on the Wilmington team except two made a hit, but not one could reach the home plate.

— As the STAR has said several times the Wilmington team is too weak in its pitching department to play winning ball.

— Every man on the Newbern team got a hit and some of them two and three. Every man on the Wilmington team likewise got a hit except O'Neill and Krause.

— The Giants appear to be in the second series of bad luck. There's no telling, though, what they may do today. In the emphatic words of Gustavus Adolphus, "Wonders never cease."

— News and Observer 29th: "The entire league takes off its hat to Wilmington. It has proven to be as plucky a city as ever supported a ball team. It deserves that its team go up on high in the second series."

— Umpire Jack Sherman resigned Saturday to President Busbee. Mr. Sherman says that one month of umpiring was enough for him. There are hundreds of people in Wilmington who think exactly that same way.

Eastern Carolina League Game.

TARBORO, N. C., June 30.—The home team won fifty consecutive games by defeating Wilson in a very pretty contest this afternoon. Hart and Sullivan pitched good ball. Cheshire and Higgins led in batting for the locals. Anderson's batting and fielding for the visitors was also a feature. The score: Tarboro, 6 runs, 9 hits, 2 errors; Wilson, 3 runs, 7 hits, 2 errors. Batteries: Hart and Higgins; Knell, Sullivan and Reade. Umpire, Spratt.

WEDDED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Mr. Bishop, of Monroe, and Miss Bishop, of Wilmington, Married—Ceremony.

Mr. Jack P. Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bishop, of Monroe, N. C., and Miss Louise Bishop, daughter of the late Jasper and Mrs. Mollie Bishop, were quietly married at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the bride's mother, Sixth and Chesnut streets, this city, the Rev. J. N. Cole, pastor of Grace M. E. church, officiating. The wedding was very quiet, owing to a bereavement in the family by the recent death of the bride's brother, but it was withal very charming in its simplicity.

The happy young couple left on the afternoon train for Monroe, N. C., their future home, where Mr. Bishop is in the telegraph service of the Seaboard Air Line. He was formerly an operator in the Postal Telegraph office in Wilmington and has numerous friends here who extend congratulations.

DEATH OF MISS ANNIE E. CLOWE.

Passed Away at Home of Her Mother Very Early Yesterday Morning.

Friends in the city will hear with sincere regret of the death of Miss Annie E. Clowe, daughter of the late Charles L. Clowe and Mrs. Hannah F. Clowe, which occurred at the home of her mother, No. 420 North Third street, at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning, after an illness of nearly a year with tuberculosis. She was a young lady of charming personality, much admired and loved in a wide circle of acquaintances. Her death is a sad blow to the family, and the bereaved ones have the sympathy of the community. The deceased young lady is survived by her mother, a sister, Miss Emma R. Clowe, and a brother, Mr. Charles B. Clowe.

The funeral will be conducted at five o'clock this afternoon at the late residence, with interment in Oakdale cemetery.

Funeral Sunday Morning.

Kerr, at Acorn Branch, the Rev. Mr. Gurganus, of the Baptist church, officiating. A detachment from the Wilmington Division, Naval Brigade, commanded by Lieutenant N. N. Davis, attended the funeral and three volleys were fired over the grave and the bugler sounded taps. The pall bearers were: Honorary, Messrs. O. M. Fillyaw, William Williams, George Boylan and George H. James; active, Messrs. D. D. Boylan, F. K. Breckenridge, Levi McMillan, R. A. Cromwell, William E. Cromwell, and J. J. Williams.

Total vessels, 23; total tonnage, 19,118. Foreign—2 steamships, 2,406 tons, one barque, 369 tons. Grand total vessels, 26; tonnage, 21,893. The report shows a decided increase in shipping over June, 1901, when the total tonnage was 17,146 and over June, 1900, when the total was only 12.638.

A Star Light Excursion.

On account of the extremely warm weather Capt. John W. Harper has consented to run a special "star light excursion" on the steamer Wilmington to-morrow night, leaving the city at 8 P. M. and returning at 11 P. M. The fare for the round trip is only 15 cents and a delightful treat, it will be.

PLANT'S LAST DAY.

Magnificent System of Railways Now a Part of the Greater Coast Line.

IN EFFECT LAST MIDNIGHT.

No Circulars from President's Office Yesterday, Though More Information is Expected Soon--What the Press of Other Cities is Saying.

Last midnight the absorption of the magnificent Plant system of railways by the "greater" Coast Line went into effect and hereafter the Plant System's identity will be swallowed up in that of the South's greatest railroad enterprise. There is now but one management, one property, all owned and operated under the name of the Atlantic Coast Line with headquarters Wilmington.

It was expected yesterday that circulars would issue from the President's office of the "greater" system giving full and final details of the operation of all departments but the absence of Col. Elliott from the city will probably defer further information to the public for a day or two at least. Although the circulars relative to the operating and traffic departments have already been issued, there are yet a number of points upon which information is desired, especially in the ranks of Plant System employes. The auditing and relief departments are yet to be provided for among several others of more or less importance.

It is given out in Savannah that the Plant System Relief and Hospital Department will be maintained under or combined with that of the A. C. L. of which Dr. G. G. Thomas is superintendent and chief surgeon. The Plant System Employes' Mutual Relief Association will also be maintained, it is said. This is an organization with which the company has no connection, though it sanctions and commends it.

Regarding the legal department it is said that Mr. W. L. Clay, general counsel for the Plant System, will be made division counsel for the Coast Line, having charge in the territory now reached by the old Plant System. Messrs. Hamilton and Elliott will remain as general counsel of the consolidated company.

Of the organization of the traffic department of the Atlantic Coast Line, the Atlanta Constitution yesterday says: "That it is a Coast Line organization is certainly very clear. Railroad men regard the statements of certain officials, that the people will hardly be able to tell that the consolidation has been made after it becomes effective, as rather humorous in the light of these appointments."

Commenting upon the information in the circular issued Saturday from the traffic department of the Atlantic Coast Line and published in these columns Sunday, the Savannah Morning News says:

"The circulars relating to the traffic organization of the Atlantic Coast Line were received yesterday from Wilmington. They do not give Savannahians a great deal of satisfaction, for they very clearly indicate the removal of the offices from this city and the curtailment of the authority here. President R. G. Erwin, of the Plant System, who announced some time after the consolidation of the Plant lines and the Atlantic Coast Line were decided on that there would be no diminution in the strength of the office forces at Savannah, has not proven himself a prophet. There will be a very decided reduction in the forces.

"All communications relating to passenger traffic will be addressed to the general passenger agent at Wilmington, which means that there will be no passenger headquarters for the Second division at Savannah, as will be the case with the freight department. Mr. James Menzies, the present general freight agent of the Plant System, will be general freight agent of the Second division, and his office will be here.

"All communications relating to freight claims, loss and damage, overcharge, etc., will be addressed to the freight claim agent at Wilmington, except that, until July 15, all communications upon these matters will be addressed to the general freight agent at Savannah. This means the removal of an important department from Savannah, that of Freight Claim Agent Wilbur McCoy. In this department there are sixteen or eighteen employes, most of whom will lose their positions. The circulars make no provision for their retention nor for that of Mr. McCoy.

"Much disappointment was caused by the announcement that there will be no general passenger agent at Savannah. It was expected that one for this division would be located here. Instead, a passenger agent is appointed for the entire system—Mr. J. W. Craig, at present general freight and passenger agent of the Charleston and Western Carolina, a division of the Coast Line.

"Savannah loses much of its importance as a place of railway administration by the consolidation. The office force now maintained by the Plant System will be almost decimated by the time all of the contemplated changes have been carried out. The auditing force, which constitutes fully half of the entire list of employes, will be removed on Aug. 1st to Wilmington; that is, as many of its members as may be retained in service will go there. The freight claim office will go, and the freight and passenger forces will be reduced."

Both Good Men, They Are.

The Charleston News and Courier of yesterday says:

"The reorganization of the Atlantic Coast Line's traffic department has left the Emersons in control, and railroad men are free to admit that this was about the best move that could have possibly been made. For a good many years Mr. T. M. Emerson was traffic manager. He will continue to hold that position, while Mr. Horace M. Emerson, general freight and passenger agent, has been promoted and made assistant traffic manager of the consolidated properties. The Emersons have been identified with the development of the Atlantic Coast Line's traffic department for years. They are both good men, and will prove a splendid head for the bigger transportation company, which has absorbed the Plant system."

MR. ARCHIE McQUEEN DEAD.

Died Sunday Evening at Wrightsville Beach—Funeral and Interment Will Take Place This Morning.

Mr. Archibald McQueen, for many years one of the largest and most wealthy merchants of Robeson county as senior member of the firm of A. & W. McQueen at Plainview, now Rowland, N. C., died Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the Seashore Hotel after a long confinement with paralysis. His death, though not unexpected, will come as sad news to very many friends throughout all this section where he was well and favorably known.

Mr. McQueen suffered a stroke of paralysis ten years ago and ever since that time his health has steadily declined. He sought every known source of possible relief for his suffering but without avail. Two years ago he removed with his family to Wilmington and received treatment at the Willard Institute of Osteopathy, but lately he had received the attention of other physicians, among the most noted in Wilmington.

Mr. McQueen was 58 years of age and was of the sturdy Scotch descent, which gave to his nature many noble traits of character. He was a leader among men before his sad affliction and until his death he enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all. He leaves a sorrowing wife and three children, the eldest 14 years of age.

The remains were brought up from Wrightsville yesterday and taken to the family residence, No. 208 North Seventh street. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock this morning from the First Presbyterion Church and the interment will be in the family lot in Oakdale cemetery.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Examined Many Applications for Liquor License Yesterday Afternoon.

The Board of County Commissioners held a special meeting at the Court House at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the purpose of passing upon applications for liquor license for the fiscal year beginning to-day. Members present were Chairman D. McEachern, Messrs. Gabriel Holmes, W. F. Alexander and F. A. Montgomery.

The batch of applications as approved by the Board of Aldermen with the addition of those of Messrs. A. A. Nathan, J. H. Hinton and A. P. Barrett, of Wrightsville Beach, were gone carefully over and the endorsements upon the same noted. It was found that a number of them were signed by persons not freeholders, while the signatures of the same persons in a few cases were affixed to two applications. Where either of these technical defects were discovered, the applications were remanded to the applicants for correction and the chairman authorized to approve the same when in due form. Those that were remanded were as follows, but several of them were later corrected in the afternoon and license issued, so that there will be no trouble by the applicants in continuing in business, viz: J. M. Meyland, E. A. Kerr, W. H. M. Koch, J. B. J. Sandlin, F. W. Kerchner, Geo. Schnibben, Raiford & Smith, A. A. Nathan, A. P. Barrett, J. H. Hinton, manager Seashore Hotel.

Has Relatives Here.

Charles T. Child, technical editor of the New York Electrical Review, whose death of typhoid fever at Gleasondale, Mass., was noted in the Associated Press dispatches a few days ago has relatives here and was a nephew of Tripler Child, a former resident of Wilmington, and of Col. Jacob T. Child, of Richmond, Mo., late American Minister to Siam. Deceased was aged 35 and was a widely quoted authority on electrical and scientific subjects. He wrote and spoke several different languages and his knowledge was much sought after abroad. He was born in Richmond, Va., and assisted in 1887 in building the first electric railway in the United States.

Police Court Items.

Henry Williams, colored, charged with an assault upon Hays Monroe, also colored, at Front street market house, yesterday morning was sent to the roads by the Mayor for 30 days. Monroe was discharged. Joe Yates, a white youth, was fined $20 or sentenced to the roads for 30 days for disorderly conduct Saturday night. John Reid, a colored boy, was locked up in the afternoon by Policeman C. G. Jones, charged with bathing in the river at the Carolina Central dock. Steamboat men, who sometimes have lady passengers, have complained of the nuisance to the police and an effort is being made to break it up.

Capt. G. G. Lynch's Successor.

Florence Times, 30th: "Capt. G. G. Lynch, who was train master and assistant superintendent of transportation with headquarters here, left last night for Charleston to take up the duties of district superintendent. So far no appointment has been made to fill his place. The names of Capt. J. P. Russell, now chief clerk in the general manager's office, Train Master Higgins of Wilmington and Train Master Wooten of Rocky Mount, have been mentioned in this connection, but nothing definite is known. Mr. C. L. Porter the efficient train master, will probably be in charge for several days."

— Miss. Edwina Herring, of Garland, is in the city visiting friends.

AGED COAST LINE EMPLOYE PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY.

Capt. J. G. Daniel Died at His Home in This City Late Yesterday Afternoon. Funeral This Afternoon.

Capt. James G. Daniel, for forty years an engineer on the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line railways, and an esteemed and useful citizen of Wilmington, passed away at his home in this city, No. 1023 North Third street, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, after a severe illness of eight weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. All members of his family were at his bedside when the end came.

Capt. Daniel was born in Northampton county, this State, February 26th, 1825, and he was therefore in the 78th year of his age. He came to Wilmington before the war and was first employed as an engineer for twelve years on the Seaboard Air Line, running on various trains between this city and Hamlet. Late, he was employed by the Atlantic Coast Line and remained in the service of that company until death, always faithful to every trust and enjoying the confidence and esteem of his employer and the public. Capt. Daniel enjoyed the distinctions of being the first man to run an engine across Navassa brdge and the second to drive a locomotive across Hilton bridge. He was a valued member of the Knights of Honor and was one of the oldest members in the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers He leaves to mourn them loss, a devoted wife; one son, Mr. J. W. Daniel, chief engineer at the Angola Lumber Company's plant, and two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Blomms and Mrs. C. G. Terry, all of Wilmington.

The funeral will be conducted from the late residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the interment will be in Oakdale.

Funeral Sunday Morning.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 1.

TRUSTS AND THE TARIFF.

In holding their State coventions the Republican leaders are anticipating the agitation of the tariff and trust questions and are planning to humbug the people with reasons for not taking any action to restrain the Trusts, or to reduce tariff taxation, where that taxation is unnecessarily excessive. In every convention thus far held they have resolved to stand by protection, and while they have condemned trusts "organized for the purpose of lessening production and controlling the prices," they do that as a matter of policy because there isn't a trust in the country which would admit that it was organized for that purpose, and it would be a very difficult thing to prove too, for they do not put agreements of that kind in such shape as they could be used as evidence against them.

The Michigan Republican convention was held last week and as usual it had something to say about trusts and the protective tariff, the substance of which is embraced in the two following extracts, the former from the speech of Congressman William Alden Smith, the latter from the platform. Mr. Smith said:

> We hear a great deal of talk about our policy of protection being the mother of trusts. It is not so. If trusts thrive on protection, how is it that in free trade England trusts are more numerous and powerful than in protected America? Let no man be deceived. These combinations of capital are the outgrowth of a world-wide business tendency, and you cannot escape it even though you immigrate to Orient or the islands of the sea. It is neither a geographicel nor a climate condition. It pertains to the whole business world. So long as combinations of capital are not oppressive, and so long as the public welfare is not assailed, we are, perhaps, powerless to check them. But wherever corporations are organized for the purpose of lessening the output or unfairly controlling the prices, they should be dissolved and punished; and there sits a man to-day in the White House at Washington who proposes to enforce the law without fear or hesitation.
>
> I have no interest whatever in maintaining the supremacy of the trusts in our industrial system; but if there are to be trusts anywhere in the world, I would prefer to have them in America, under the supervision and regulation of our law, rather than have them in Europe beyond our reach and beyond our power.
>
> If we were to strike down the tariff upon trust-made articles with a view of crippling the trusts, is it not possible that we might inspire the organization of the international trusts? When that time comes, tell me, will the wages of labor be the wage of Europe, upon a low scale, or the wage of America upon a high scale? And if the wage of Europe shall prevail, tell me, whether the purchasing power of labor will be as great and as profitable and as desirable as it is to-day.

The platform says:

> We continue our abiding faith in the protective tariff and are opposed to all efforts to destroy it or emasculate it or weaken its beneficent operation. We favor no plan that would interfere with the industries of the United States and would lesson the legitimate fruits of American labor.
>
> We realize that large combinations of capital may be necessary, but we desire to express our condemnation of all conspiracies and combinations to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit production, or control prices, and we favor such legislation as will effectually restrain and prevent all such abuses. We cordially approve and commend the efforts of President Roosevelt to enforce the law against illegal combinations in restraint of trade.

Mr. Smith's speech is on the line of nearly all the speeches made by Republican leaders, and it is all rot—every bit of it. "So long," he says, "as combinations of capital are not oppressive, and so long as the public welfare is not assailed, we are, perhaps, powerless to check them." Of course we are powerless to check them, for there is no law to check combinations of capital which are not oppressive and do not assail the public welfare, and we do not know that anybody is asking that that kind of combinations be checked. "But," he adds, "whenever corporations are organized for the purpose of lessening the output and unfairly controlling the price they should be dissolved and punished." This borders on the humorous, although Mr. Smith was not joking. It is something over twelve years since the Sherman anti-trust law was enacted. How many trusts, or combinations, if they prefer that word, were prosecuted and punished during these twelve years? Up to the time of the proceeding against the Beef Trust, into which they were forced, there were, we believe, four actions instituted and not a single conviction, and, of course, no one "punished."

The inference from this is either that there were no trusts, or that it couldn't be proved, or that the trusts were more potent in the courts than the prosecutors. Drawing the line as they do, that it is only the combination which is organized for the purpose of lessening the output and unfairly controlling the prices, that is amenable to law, of course it is rather difficult to spot a "trust" of that description, yank it into court and punish it, for the fellows who organize trusts are not simpletons enough to admit that or furnish any testimony by which it might be proved in court. They don't do business that way, and yet as a matter of fact that is the incentive to the organization of trusts. By organizing and getting possession of the leading plants they put themselves in a position to lessen or increase the output as they see fit, and having thus practically stifled opposition they can demand any price they see fit, especially when they have a protective tariff to prevent serious foreign competition. Hasn't nearly every trust in the country done this, regulated the output and charged its own prices? Hasn't the price of nearly every trust controlled product increased in the past two years? Of course the trust managers give excuses for this, such as the increased cost of raw materials, which is a fraudulent pretence, for the increase in the cost of the raw materials is out of all proportion to the increased cost the manufactures from those materials. The reports of profits by some of the trusts give the lie to this anyway, for in some cases they run from ten to twenty or more per cent. on very large alleged capital. Some of these trusts furnish their own raw material, but that doesn't prevent them from running prices up all the same. The fact that they either buy or strangle, if they can, plants that might compete with them and raise prices to suit their pleasure is proof of the purpose at the bottom of such organization.

What is the use then of all this rot about the purpose in organizing? What difference does it make to the public what the purposes in organizing trusts was, when the trust secures a monopoly, and regulates the output and makes the prices? The object is accomplished, the consumer has to bear the burden and "the public welfare is assailed."

The kind of talk that Mr. Smith indulges in, and the resolutions on the same line which the buncoers put in the platform, will not fool people with good common sense; but they have to put up some sort of an excuse for failing to grapple with the trusts, or to heed the demands for tariff revision.

AFRAID TO TURN ON THE LIGHT.

As might have been anticipated—although he does not propose to obstruct the building of the Panama canal—Senator Morgan does not feel that the victory for the Panama bill was a clean, honest victory, but does believe that it was won by the efforts of a powerful lobby plentifully supplied with money "to be put where it would do the most good."

He didn't assert that any Senator or Representative was bribed, but he did assert that the canal, or rather the anti-canal, lobby was "hanging about Congress—so thick that it might be cut with a knife"—and he wanted to know whether any part and how much of the $40,000,000 to be paid for the Panama property was to go to the lobbyists for the work they had done in boosting the Panama job.

Senator Hanna, who engineered the Panama bill, indignantly denied that the lobby had anything to do with it, resented the insinuation that any of the supporters of that bill had been bought, declared that he never knew of the existence of any such lobby, and challenged Senator Morgan to produce proof of his charge.

In the face of this indignant denial and challenge it is somewhat remarkable that there should be such opposition to Senator Morgan's resolution, the object of which is to investigate and learn what ground there is for the charges which he makes, and the proof of which Senator Hanna challenges. If there be no truth in them why shun an investigation? What harm could such an investigation do?

It has been openly charged all along that the trans-continental railroads have been fighting an isthmian canal ever since it became a matter of consideration by Congress, and that when there was a prospect of carrying the Nicaragua scheme through they turned their combined efforts on the Panama bill to defeat the Nicaragua bill, and succeeded. If this be true, it should be known, and if it is not true the investigation will not only do no harm, but good, for it will acquit the managers of these companies of the charge against them, will show that Congress was not thus influenced and that the Panama victory was a clean and honest one. Opposition to the investigation is virtually a confession that Senator Morgan knows what he is talking about, and that there is something the promoters of the Panama job do not wish to have uncovered.

Pierpont Morgan is accused of wearing second-hand knee breeches when he dined with King Edward at Ambassador Choate's shack. He was hurried and didn't have time to have a new pair built, and hired those he wore from a theatrical costume furnisher. Well, what's wrong about that? As Pierpont was simply playing a part, he thought an actor's toggery would fill the bill, while he filled the breeches.

In addition to the $3,600,000 life insurance that King Edward carries, the policies held by people who have invested money in that way are estimated at about $21,000,000, so that his death would be a very serious blow to the insurance companies.

HOW ABOUT THE SUBSIDIES?

When the Ship Subsidy boomers under the lead of Hon. Mark Hanna, were scheming and working to put a tax of about $180,000,000 on the American people to resuscitate the American merchant marine, they declared that ships could not be built in this country as cheaply as in other ship-building countries, and that without such subsidy encouragement we could never have American built ships. In view of this contention, which was rung in nearly every subsidy speech made, the following from the New York Tribune, the leading Republican organ of New York, is interesting:

> American shipbuilders are talking hopefully of the prospect that the constant development of the steel industries of the United States will make it possible to construct vessels here better and more cheaply than in any other country and without reducing wages.
> Sanguine prophets venture to predict that ere many years have passed capitalists and investors on the other side of the Atlantic will find it to their advantage to give extensive orders to Yankee shipyards. That is an outlook full of encouragement.

It appears from this that the American shipbuilders are not only hopeful of being able to build ships as cheaply as they can be built on the other side of the Atlantic, but more cheaply, so much more that "capitalists and investors on the other side will find it to their advantage to give extensive orders to Yankee shipyards." And now what becomes of all this subsidy bunco by which the boosters proposed to yank about $180,000,000 out of the American people?

Some men have remarkable moderation when they can run their arms into the U. S. Treasury. The law allows $2,000 to pay expenses of Congressmen who contest elections, or whose elections are contested. Congressman Tompkins, Rep., of Ohio, whose election was contested by Lentz, put in a bill for only $1,999.06.

Admiral Dewey is a remarkably accommodating sort of fellow. In his testimony before the Senate committee he said the Governor of Manila had agreed to surrender, but to save his honor he wanted a little shooting done, and therefore he (Dewey) had "to kill a few men" to save the Governor's honor.

CURRENT COMMENT

— Isn't it a bit inconsistent that Mr. Bryan is willing to merge, fuse and consolidate with Populists in Nebraska, but is not willing to have anything to do with Democrats in New York and other states?—Savannah News, Dem.

— Some of our Protectionists think they see a reaction against free trade in the British duty of just 3 cents on a hundred pounds on Indian meal. The British would have to travel back a long ways to get to the Dingley duty of twenty cents on a bushel of corn meal of forty-eight pounds.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

— The railroad attorneys and millionaires of the senate have passed the Spooner bill and paved the way for a deadlock and no canal. The expected has happened. The international railroads commanded the votes of every millionaire except Mr. Clark, of Montana and New York, an exception that but proves the rule. — Birmingham Age-Herald, Dem.

"The Republican party," says the Buffalo Review, "is not quite so loud in its professions of interest in 'the people' as the Democratic party, but somehow they seem to get along best while the former is in control of the Government." Something depends on what element of the people is meant. If it is the working people, they can scarcely be said to be getting along best just now, whether they know it or not, with their wages at about the old level and the cost of living advanced 25 or 30 per cent.—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

— Tarboro Southerner: The storm Friday evening is reported to have been very severe at Sheriff Knight's in this county between here and Sparta. The crops in the lower end of his plantation were much damaged by wind, especially corn.

— Salisbury Sun: All the farmers of the county who have been in Salisbury during the past week express much gratification at the condition of crops. The rains have done a vast amount of good and truck will be in an abundance next week.

— Newbern Journal: The railroad meeting at Bayboro Friday of which we gave a brief account Saturday was most enthusiastic and to that was largely due the triumph that was scored yesterday in the election in which the people voted to bond the county for $50,000. The road is to be built from Bayboro to either Washington, Greenville or Newbern.

— Winston Journal: The little 6-year-old son of Rev. S. B. Staney, of Mexico, passed through here Friday morning, having traveled 2,600 miles alone. He is on his way to his grandfather at Roaring River, Wilkes county. His father, formerly pastor of Burkhead church, went to Mexico for his church. —— A travelling man remarked Saturday that all through our section the corn crop was the finest he had ever seen, and that there never were better prospects for tobacco.

— Winston Sentinel: The new electric company, organized to build a line between Winston-Salem and High Point, is capitalized at $500,000. Mr. Joyner, the Greensboro correspondent, says: "While there are many pessimists in these parts as to the immediate building of the road, there is no doubt but that the newly organized and officered company has enough faith in the project to be spending quite a lot of money to start it to going, as surveys have all been made and I am told that grading will be begun between Winston-Salem and High Point next week."

— Greensboro dispatch in Ralegh Post: The passing through here yesterday of two huge lions, bound for Vade Mecum Springs, in Stokes county, recalls an interesting statement made to me some time ago by Mr. A. H. Eller, one of the owners of the springs property and a prominent lawyer of Winston. He said that Sparks, the showman, owned two-thirds interest in the 1,700 acres of the property and would use a large portion of it as a breeding place for different animals for his menagerie. There are already 100 Angora goats out there cleaning up the mountain shrubbery in preparing lands for pasturage. Another important function, he said, of these goats would be to raise meat for lions, tigers and other carniverous beasts. The goats increase at a very rapid rate and so soon as the goat output is sufficient to justify it enough flesh eating animals will be raised to keep the number reduced to reasonable bounds. If lions can keep Angora goats in bounds they can do better than I did, for twenty years ago I imported a pair from Italy and they could scale the side of a house and bound over it into a field.

— Raleigh News and Observer: J. M. Newton, who recently left Greenville for Greenville's good, and came to Raleigh to Raleigh's regret, is in jail here. Water will seek its level. Finding that the people here sympathized with the Greenville folks in their action when they drove him out of that town, Newton applied to the police here for protection. While talking to an officer, he dropped a long rule which he had in his hand wrapped up. When it struck the floor, a dagger was revealed, and he was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon. He was sent to jail in default of a $50 bond. Newton is the white man who seduced his wife's niece in Greenville.——The preliminary hearing of Ocman Kirby, the colored section hand who killed his friend, John Diggs, at Millbrook, was held Friday at noon in the office of Justice J. C. Marcom Kirby was found guilty of pointing a loaded pistol at Diggs, and as this in law constitute an assault, he was sent on to court under a $25 justified bond. This he could not give. He was, moreover, held for murder under a warrant based on the action of the coroner's jury and committed without bail.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

The Gathering at Boston for the Annual Communion Services.

[Communicated.]

The Christian Scientists of our city feel that it will be of interest to the public, and even to those not in sympathy with our cause, to hear of the large gathering at Boston June 15th for annual communion service.

The marvellous growth of Christian Science during the past few years, causing an increase each year of hundreds, coming from all parts of the world, speaks for itself as to the prosperity of our cause—and many who have tried to sweep aside the fact of this great religious movement with the statement, "it is only the fact of an hour"—must confess that its steady growth is, to say the least, astounding.

Could a picture be drawn, as we who attended the different services saw it, astonishment would increase.

Think of an immense hall beautifully decorated with banners and flags, typical of the freedom that our great country gives to every man, woman and child, to worship God according to their conscience, and see there gathered a perfect sea of happy faces, numbering about six thousand, all listening with the greatest earnestness to the simple but impressive service, and when every head was bowed in silent prayer, the perfect stillness that came over that vast throng of earnest, prayerful people, who had many of them come from such great distances to take part in the simple services, must have impressed even the most careless and cynical.

And again when every voice was raised in one accord in the beautiful communion hymn, none could have failed to feel uplifted and to rejoice in the fact that so vast a multitude could come together and blend their voices in one grand song of praise to the Giver of all Good.

It is estimated that ten thousand Christian Scientists were in attendance, and as the hall could hold only a little over half this number, two services were held on Sunday to accommodate all.

During the year ending June, 1902, 2,784 communicants were added to the Mother Church—the head church of our denomination in Boston—making a total in that church of 24,415 communicants. The Boston Herald, in speaking of the annual business meeting held June 18th, says:

Edward A. Kimball, of Chicago, offered the following motion: "Recognizing the necessity for providing an auditorium for the Mother Church that will seat 4,000 or 5,000 persons, and in acting in behalf of ourselves and the Christian Scientists of the world, we agree to contribute any portion of $2,000,000 that may be necessary for this purpose."

Hermann S. Herring, the newly elected reader of the Mother Church, is the youngest son of the late Dr. Constantine Herring, of Philadelphia, the founder of Homœopathy in America. He was associate in electrical engineering at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore five years and gave up his profession three years ago to devote himself to Christian Science work."

To quote the Daily Herald, of Fishhill, N. Y.: "In December, 1901, the total number of Christian Science churches and societies in this country and abroad was 663, making an increase of 81 since 1900."

At the conclusion of the different services and business meetings, many hundreds took a short journey to Concord, N. H., to see Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, and as she slowly drove past the throng assembled to do honor to their beloved Leader, all were made happier by carrying away with them a picture of health, grace, and beauty of one whose whole life has been dedicated to the service of God.

COTTON MARKETS

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The cotton market opened barely steady with prices four points higher to five points lower, the latter being on late months only. The Liverpool cables had little effect upon local sentiment. July shorts were anxious buyers around the opening and this served to cause relative strength in the new crop positions. However, following the call the market turned uneasy under profit-taking and pressure from the bearside with August down to 8 26. Then came a sudden scare of July shorts on strong bulling by a prominent spot cotton house. A reaction was followed by another upward movement, less rapid than the first but almost as strong. For the rest of the session July held the attention of the entire trade and business for the most part was in the Summer months August stiffened to 8.36, dropped back to 8.27, then worked up to 8 33, with the final price but little off from the top. The cause of the strength in the near months was entirely demand from shorts, for there was little real bulling or public support after the first effort on the part of the longs. The new crop months barely held even with last Saturday's final prices and were neglected much of the time. The market was finally firm for the near months and steady for the far months, with prices net unchanged to twelve points higher. Total sales estimated at about 80,000 bales. There were few orders here from the South or Liverpool.

FLORENCE, S. C., Nov. 26, 1900.—I was first advised by our family physician in Charleston to use TEETHINA with our baby when he was but a very young infant, as a preventive of colic and to warm and sweeten the stomach. Later it was useful in teething troubles, and its effect has been found to be so very beneficial and so free from dangers that are consequent upon the use of drugs and soothing syrups, that we have come to regard it, after use with three children, as one of the necessities when there is a new baby in the house and until the teething troubles are over, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends instead of the horrid stuff that so many people use to keep their baby quiet.

DEMOCRATIC PLAN OF ORGANIZATION.

1. The unit of county organization shall be the voting precincts. In each precinct there shall be an executive committee, to consist of five active Democrats, who shall be elected by the Democratic voters at the several precincts in the meeting first called by the county executive committee. And said committee so elected shall elect one of its members as chairman, who shall preside at all committee meetings.

2. The chairmen of the several precinct committees shall compose the county executive committee, which shall meet at the same time and place as the county convention first held in each election year, and elect a chairman of said county committee who need not be a member of the committee, and he shall preside at all meetings of said committee, and shall hold his place until his successor shall be elected. A majority of said precinct chairmen, in person, or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum. The county committee shall likewise appoint a central committee of five, who shall act in its stead when the county committee is not in session.

3. In case there shall be a failure on the part of any precinct to elect its executive committee for a period of thirty days, the county executive committee shall appoint said committee from the Democratic voters of said precinct.

4. The members of the precinct committee shall elect to any vacancy occurring in said committee.

5. The county executive committee shall call all necessary conventions by giving at least ten days' notice by public advertisement in three public places in each precinct, at the court house door, and any Democratic newspapers that may be published in said county, requesting all Democrats of the county to meet in their respective precincts on a common day therein stated, which said day shall not be less than three days before the meeting of the county conventions, for the purpose of electing their delegates to the county conventions. Thereupon the meeting so held shall elect their delegates to represent the precincts in the county convention from the voters of the respective voting precincts, which delegates, or such of them as shall attend, shall vote the full Democratic strength of their respective voting precincts on all questions that may come before said county conventions. In case no meeting shall be held in any precinct in pursuance of said call, or no election shall be made, the precinct executive committee shall appoint such delegates.

PRIMARIES.

6. At every precinct meeting there shall (before the delegates to the county convention are elected) be a vote taken for the different candidates for office, whose names may be presented and the delegates shall vote in the county convention of their respective districts in accordance with this vote; that is to say, each candidate shall receive in the county convention that proportion of the vote to which the precinct may be entitled which he received in the precinct meeting. The chairman and secretary of the precinct meeting shall certify to the county convention the vote received by each candidate at the precinct meeting.

7. Each precinct shall be entitled to cast in the county convention one vote for every twenty-five Democratic votes, and one vote for fractions of thirteen Democratic votes cast by the township at the last preceding gubernatorial election. Provided, that every voting precinct shall be entitled to cast one vote, and each precinct may send as many delegates as it may see fit.

8. The chairmen of the precinct committees shall preside at all precinct meetings. In their absence any other member of said committees may preside.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT CONVENTIONS

1. The several county conventions shall be entitled to elect to their senatorial, judicial and congressional conventions one delegate and one alternate for every fifty Democratic votes, and one delegate for fractions of over twenty-five Democratic votes cast at the last preceding gubernatorial election in their respective counties; and none but delegates or alternates so elected shall be entitled to a seat in said conventions: Provided, further, That in all county conventions in which delegates shall be selected to attend any State, congressional, judicial or other convention, a vote shall be taken in accordance with the plan of organization as to the candidates whose names may be presented to such county convention. The delegates shall be selected from the friends and supporters of each candidate voted for, in proportion to the number of votes he shall receive in such county convention and no other instruction shall be given: Provided further, That when only one candidate is presented and voted for at each county convention it shall be lawful to instruct for such candidate.

2. At every county convention (before delegates to State, congressional, judicial, senatorial or other conventions are chosen) there shall be a vote taken for the different candidates for office whose names may be presented and the delegates shall vote their respective counties in accordance with this vote, that is to say each candidate shall receive in the State, congressional, judicial, senatorial or other convention the proportion of the vote to which the county may be entitled which he received in the county convention. The chairman and secretary of the county convention shall certify to each convention the vote received by each candidate given: Provided, That where only one candidate is presented it shall be lawful to instruct for him. At all State and district conventions the delegates from the different counties may disregard the vote of their respective counties as to any candidate: Provided, That a two-thirds majority of all his votes from the county consent.

3. The chairman, or in his absence any member of the county, senatorial, judicial and congressional convention shall call to order their respective conventions and hold chairmanship thereof until the convention shall elect its chairman.

4. The executive committees of the senatorial, congressional and judicial districts, respectively, shall, at the call of their respective chairmen, meet at some time and place in their respective districts, and the chairmen of said respective committees shall immediately notify the chairmen of the different county executive committees of the said appointment and the said county executive committee shall forthwith call conventions of their respective counties in conformity to said notice to send delegates to said respective district conventions.

STATE CONVENTIONS.

The State convention shall be composed of delegates appointed by the several county conventions. Each county shall be entitled to elect one delegate and one alternate for every one hundred and fifty Democratic votes and one delegate for fractions over seventy-five Democratic votes cast therein at the last preceding gubernatorial election; and none but delegates or alternates so elected shall be entiled to seats in said convention: Provided, That every county shall have at least one vote in the convention.

Resolution passed at meeting of executive committee, November 30, 1897:

"Resolved, That in accordance with the resolution hereinbefore adopted, all white electors who intend to vote with us in the next election, and who desire the re-establishment of Anglo-Saxon supremacy and honest government in North Carolina are cordially invited to participate in all our primaries and conventions."

GENERAL RULES.

1. At all conventions the delegates shall be selected as near as may be from the friends and supporters of the candidates voted for.

2. Such delegates—or alternates of absent delegates—as may be present at any Democratic convention shall be allowed to cast the whole vote to which their precinct or county may be entitled.

3. In all conventions provided for by this system, after a vote is cast, there shall be no change in such votes until the final result of the ballot shall be announced by the chairman of said convention.

4. All Democratic executive committees shall have the power to fill any vacancies occurring in their respective bodies.

5. The chairmen of the different county conventions shall certify the list of delegates and alternates of the different district and State conventions, and a certified list of said delegates and alternates to the secretary of the State central committee.

6. It shall be the duty of the county committee and its chairman to furnish such information and make such reports to the chairman of the State committee as he may desire.

F. M. SIMMONS,
Chairman State Democratic Executive Committee.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 1.

BAILEY OF TEXAS AND BEVERIDGE OF INDIANA.

Particulars of the Encounter Between the Two Senators Yesterday After the Adjournment of the Senate.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Senator Bailey, of Texas, assaulted Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, to-night, just after the Senate had adjourned from executive session. The Texas senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent by some of those about the Senate. He was very angry and threatened severe harm to the Indiana senator. The episode was the result of a heated controversy which the two senators had during the afternoon, when Senator Beveridge had said that Senator Bailey had made an "unwarranted attack" on Solicitor Penfield of the State Department. In executive session Senator Beveridge, like other senators who smoke, lighted a cigar and took a seat on the Republican side. He was still sitting there when the Senate adjourned.

Senator Bailey crossed the aisle and walked through the seats until he was facing Senator Beveridge. "Beveridge," he said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you, but I want you to withdraw those words which charge me with making an unwarranted attack upon Penfield."

"I did not intend to insult you," replied Senator Beveridge, "and there is nothing in my language that you could consider offensive."

"I don't allow any one to say that I libel a man, and that is what you do in making the charge. Now, if you won't withdraw the words when I ask you, I'm going to make you withdraw them."

Senator Bailey had been getting more and more angry and excited as he talked. He had been sitting down part of time or leaning against the desk immediately in front of Senator Beveridge. The latter in reply to Senator Bailey's last remark, still remaining in his chair, said: "I repeat that I did not intend to insult you and that I have nothing to retract."

As these words were uttered Senator Bailey threw himself upon Senator Beveridge, who is a man hardly up to the average in physique and seized him by the throat with both hands. The rush was so sudden and fierce that the chair in which Senator Beveridge was sitting was pushed back against a desk and the desk was toppled over. Before the assault could go any farther senators who had been sitting near had moved up between the desks. Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, seized Senator Bailey by one arm and Senator Spooner seized the other.

The Texan is a powerful man and it was with great difficulty that the two senators were able to drag him away from Senator Beveridge, and when they succeeded a part of the Indiana Senator's neckwear was torn away by the vigorous grasp of Senator Bailey. Senator Bacon, of Georgia, and Barney Layton, assistant door-keeper, came quickly forward and assisted in pulling the Texas senator further away, Senator Bailey meanwhile struggling to get free and lunging toward Senator Beveridge. As he was removed a little distance he was heard to utter something that sounded like a threat about killing.

Without further effort, however, he walked away when Senator Bacon urged him to be quiet and led him toward the Democratic side. Senator Bacon engaged Senator Bailey in conversation for some time, advising him to cool down. Senator Spooner also went across the aisle and discussed the matter with the Texas senator, urging him to apologize and if possible fix it up at once; but Senator Bailey refused all such proffers, declaring that Senator Beveridge had insulted him in the Senate and that he had taken the only course left, as the Indiana senator had refused to withdraw his remarks.

Senator Beveridge remained in the chamber for some little time and continued to smoke his cigar. He remarked to those who spoke to him on the subject that it did not amount to anything. He made no effort to resist or resent the attack made on him. In fact the whole thing was over in a brief interval before much resistance could have been offered.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.

Resolution Fixes 3 P. M. To-day as the Time, if the Way is Clear.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—It is understood that the resolution for the adjournment of Congress has been drawn in authoritative quarters and fixes 3 P. M. Tuesday, July 1, as the hour of final adjournment. It has not been introduced, but is held for prompt introduction if the present indications of dispatching work are realized, the Naval appropriation and Philippine bills being the doubtful quantities.

SENATORS ENGAGE IN FISTICUFFS.

Hot Words Passed Between Bailey of Texas and Beveridge of Indiana.

FIGHT AFTER ADJOURNMENT.

The Texas Senator Assaulted the Senator from Indiana—Parties Separated Them Before Damage Was Done—House Proceedings.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Hot words passed between Senator Bailey of Texas and Senator Beveridge of Indiana, on the floor of the Senate, and after adjournment were followed up by a physical assault by the Texas Senator on the Senator from Indiana. Senator Bailey criticised the State Department for its handling of the case of an American citizen Dr. Scott and reflected on the competency of Judge Penfield, solicitor of the department. Senator Beveridge characterized the words of the Texas Senator as an "unwarranted attack." This characterization Senator Bailey regarded as an insult and demanded that the Indiana Senator withdraw the words.

Senator Beveridge declined to withdraw them, unless Senator Bailey first withdraw his language in respect to Solicitor Penfield, although he disclaimed any intention of insulting Senator Bailey.

The trouble grew out of a resolution offered by Mr. Bailey, calling for the papers in a Mexican mining case in which, he maintained, Dr. Scott had been unfairly treated, not only by the Mexican courts but also by the American ambassador, Mr. Clayton, and the officials of the State Department. Senator Bailey declared Ambassador Clayton was either incompetent or dishonest and his remarks led to some tart rejoinders.

Senator Bailey declared he himself had been unable to obtain the papers this resolution called for.

"If," he asserted, "one-half of what has been represented to me is true, then I will present papers to this Senate, which will compel the recall of the American ambassador to Mexico and the retirement of the solicitor of the State Department."

The Texas Senator declared that the American ambassador to Mexico himself was connected with a mining operation linked with the claim of Dr. Scott, when he said, in response to an inquiry of Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, that he had been informed at the State Department that whatever action the American ambassador had taken had been with a view to the best interests of alconcerned.

Senator Fairbanks, of Indiana, Senator Patterson, Colorado and Senator Hanna, defended Ambassador Clayton. The latter said an attempt was being made to throw a cloud upon the character of Ambassador Clayton. He had been connected with a mining company in Mexico merely as the representative of a relative who held stock in the corporation.

Senator Bailey asserted that a petition had been presented to the President by Americans in Mexico praying for the recall of American Ambassador Clayton, because he had been "recreant to his high duty" in not protecting their interest from the "injustice of Mexican courts."

Senator Bailey maintained that the American Ambassador, as indicated by the papers in the case, was either dishonest or incompetent. In either case he ought to be removed. He declared the United States ought to be represented at the Mexican capital by a man "whose brain and conscience both were capable of the highest service."

Senator Beveridge declared that Senator Bailey had attacked Judge Penfield by innuendo and insinuation, and that innuendo and insinuation had extended to the ambassador to Mexico and to the secretary of state himself. He characterized Senator Bailey's reference to Solicitor Penfield as an "unwarranted attack."

To this Senator Bailey took sharp exception and he urged that Senator Beveridge "withdraw that insinuation."

"I make no insinuation," retorted Senator Beveridge. "If the Senator will withdraw his words about a high official of the State Department I will be very glad, indeed, to withdraw mine."

"The assertion," said Senator Bailey hotly, "that I have made an unwarranted attack upon a man whom the Senator describes as being as honorable as myself, I want to say now, is so offensive that it is deserving only of such a reply as the rules of the Senate will not permit me to make here. Neither the Senator from Indiana nor any other man can insult me and then require me to withdraw what I have said in the performance of my duty before he withdraws his insulting words."

Senator Beveridge declined to withdraw his words, saying that Senator Bailey was entirely too sensitive. "He knows very well," said Senator Beveridge, referring to Senator Bailey, "that the words 'unwaranted attack' were not an insult, and not intended to be. The Senator from Texas employed extraordinary and even potent language concerning the solicitor of the State Department. The Senator is not insulted," he declared, "but only too sensitive."

In a later colloquy Senator Bailey said:

"I can fathom the intelligence of every man in this chamber except that of the Senator from Indiana."

"I am glad to know," retorted Senator Beveridge, "that you are beyond your depth."

Senator Fairbanks, of Indiana, explained that he had communicated with Solicitor Penfield since the debate had arisen, and was convinced that the trouble Senator Bailey found himself in had grown out of a misunderstanding. Every paper in the case was at the disposal of Senator Bailey, and he knew that Solicitor Penfield had no intention of inconveniencing the Texas senator.

Senator Bailey directed attention to the fact that Senator Beveridge had not withdrawn the "offensive" words he had used toward him.

Senator Beveridge replied that Senator Bailey had not withdrawn the violent language he had employed toward Judge Penfield, and said he (Beveridge) had disclaimed intention of insulting Senator Bailey, but he did not think his characterization of Senator Bailey's words was too strong.

At Senator Bailey's request, the resolution was finally referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations with power to investigate the case and report on it.

Shortly afterward the Senate adjourned.

House of Representatives.

In the House to-day Mr. Cannon, chairman of the Appropriation Committee, called up the conference report on the General Deficiency appropriation bill. The report left in dispute items aggregating $1,905,000, including the appropriations for the Buffalo and Charleston expositions. The report was adopted.

Mr. Alexander, of New York, asked for a separate vote on the appropriation of $500,000 for the Buffalo exposition, and Mr. Finley, of South Carolina, for one on the appropriation of $160,000 for the Charleston exposition.

Mr. Alexander made a strong plea in favor of concurrence in the Senate Buffalo exposition amendment. He declared that the success of the exposition was assured when the assassination of President McKinley occurred.

Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, opposed the motion, saying that in all his legislative experience he had never known a more preposterous proposal.

After some further remarks by Mr. Richardson, of Alabama; Mr. Bartlett, Georgia; Mr. Barney, of Wisconsin; Mr. Snodgrass, of Tennessee; Mr. Slayon, of Texas, and Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, concluded the debate on Mr. Alexander's motion with a strong speech in opposition to it.

The plea for this appropriation on the ground that McKinley's death made the exposition a failure, he declared, was a pretence. "If Congress is to underwrite these national expositions," said he, "it will be asked to underwrite State fairs and county fairs and gradually we will reach the point where the United States will run a Wild West show." (Laughter.)

Mr. Alexander's motion to concur in the Buffalo exposition amendment was carried—118 to 101.

Mr. Finley, South Carolina, then entered his motion to concur in the Charleston exposition amendment.

"If the members will give me an aye and no vote," said Mr. Cannon, "I am willing to vote now. I want to see whether the New York members will keep faith with their South Carolina friends."

"I desire a few minutes," said Mr. Finley, "My people are greatly interested in this matter."

"Debate is unnecessary," observed Mr. Cannon, "if you have made your deal.' (Laughter.)

Mr. Finley made an earnest argument in support of his motion. When the people of South Carolina inaugurated the movement for an exposition, he said, they believed Charleston would be treated by Congress as other exposition cities had been. They were entitled to $250,000. They obtained only $50,000. The appropriation of $100,000 in the Senate amendment would give them what they should have had originally.

Mr. Cannon spoke sarcastically of the "cohesive force of public plunder." He had lived to see the day when the State of John C. Calhoun, the champion of State's rights, came in here and struck hands with New York to get through the New York appropriation."

I changed my vote on the last vote," said he, "for the purpose of moving to reconsider in order that if the New York people failed to keep faith with their South Carolina allies, the latter could revoke their votes. But the gentleman from New York (Mr. Alexander) was too shrewd for me. I was overruled. I am against the other." Mr. Finley's motion to concur in the Charleston amendment was lost—71 to 118.

Subsequently, at the night session, the House reversed itself and assented to the Senate amendment, making an appropriation for the Charleston exposition.

VIRGINIA COAL MINES.

Many of the Strikers Returning to Work. No Trouble Reported.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ROANOKE, VA., June 30.—Many of the old men who had left the mines in the Pocahontas and Flat Top coal regions when the strike was being agitated, previous to the date set for quitting work, and a great many others who have gone out at different times since the strike was declared, reported for duty and went back to work at their old places to-day. There are more miners at work to-day than on any day since June 7th. There is no trouble reported and everything points to greater gains in the number of men returning to work.

KEY STONE, W. VA., June 30.—The strike of the United Mine Workers in the Norfolk and Western coal fields is practically at an end. The strikers, excepting about 15 per cent., have returned to work. All train crews on the Norfolk and Western that were laid off on account of the strike resumed work to-day.

LYNCHING THREATENED.

Crowd in Pursuit of a Negro Who Assaulted a White Woman.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., June 30.—News reached here that Saturday night, near Montross, in Westmoreland county, a Miss Kostenbader was criminally assaulted by a negro named Jno. Horner. A posse started in pursuit of the negro, but in the meantime the county officers succeeded in arresting him and placed him in Montross jail, which was put under heavy guard. Excitement ran high and it was believed that a lynching was inevitable. Miss Kostenbader is in a dangerous condition.

A special from Fredericksburg later says the county authorities secretly took the negro from jail and are supposed to be on the way to that city with him. A crowd is in pusuit, however, and if they are overtaken there will be a lynching.

HAYTI'S REVOLUTION.

U. S. Gunboat Marietta Ordered to Cape Haytian from Porto Rico.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Acting Secretary of State Hill received a request by cable to-day from United States Consul L. W. Livingston, at Cape Haytien, for an American warship to protect the interests of the United States during the present revolutionary crisis in Hayti. Dr. Hill referred the request to Secretary Moody and it is understood that orders will be sent forward to-day to the gunboat Marietta at San Juan, Porto Rico, to proceed at once to the scene of trouble. Consul Livingston's dispatch says that a warship was needed immediately and hence the Marietta will proceed to Cape Haytien with all possible dispatch. It is a thirty-six hour run from San Juan to Cape Haytien.

PHILIPPINE BILL AS AGREED UPON.

Conference Report on the Measure Adopted in the House by a Party Vote.

PROVISIONS OF THE BILL.

Provides for a Legislature of Two Houses. Two Commissioners to Represent the Islands in Washington—Concerning the Friar Lands.

By Telegraph to the Morning star.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The Philippine civil government bill as finally agreed upon to-day, provides for a Philippine legislature of two houses—one of the Philippine commission and the other an assembly elected by the natives, except the Moores and Pagans. But this legislature is not to be created until after a census has been taken, and a condition of general peace and good order shall have prevailed for two years. The legislature is to elect two commissioners to represent the islands in Washington. The powers of the legislature are defined, and an extended bill of rights sets forth the individual rights of citizens and their protection against unjust laws.

Authority is given to issue bonds for the purchase of the Friar lands, and when purchased these become part of the public domain. The public lands are to be open to homesteaders, similar to the American system, and to prevent corporations from absorbing the lands corporation holdings are limited to 2,500 acres. Corporations are also stringently regulated in holding mining and agricultural lands. The money standard and the permanent money system are left for future settlement. The banking system is also postponed. Provision is made for subsidiary and minor coins. Authority is given to issue bonds for harbor and other improvements.

Mr. Cooper, of Wisconsin, chairman of the Committee on Insular Affairs, presented the conference report upon the Philippine bill. Mr. Cooper explained that the differences upon the coinage provisions were difficult of adjustment and finally resulted in dropping both Senate and House provisions. Speaking of the provisions for the disposition of the public lands, he expressed the opinion that they were satisfactory and that under them it would absolutely be impossible to exploit the islands.

Mr. Jones, of Virginia, the ranking minority member of the insular committee, declared that the statement did not cover one tenth of the changes made. Yet, he said, the House was expected in an hour to vote on the report. There was, he insisted, no need for such urgent haste.

Mr. Jones criticised the public land provisions, saying the Philippine commission would have the power to sell or dispose of the public lands before rules and regulations were promulgated. He also criticised the legislative provision as agreed to by the conferees. Under it, he declared, no man could tell when a popular assemblage would be created.

Mr. Jones said he had declined to sign the report because while the bill purported to be a bill for the temporary government of the islands, there was not a line or syllable in it that limited its operation.

Mr. DeArmond, of Missouri, said the English system had been adopted and was to supplant the American system in our colonies beyond the seas. The other side was in a hurry to afford opportunity for corporations and syndicates to exploit the island; to prepare civil government, not for the Filipinos but for the American exploiter. (Democrtic applause.)

After some further remarks by Mr. Cooper, the conference report was adopted, amid cheers on the Republican side, by 149 to 92.

It was a strict party vote, except that M. McCall, of Massachusetts, voted with the Democrats.

At 5:35 P. M. the House took a recess until 8 P. M.
